Letter address of Home hules, Mont demoderne v. t. to May (Horro) muting of the May (Horro) muting of the M. 7. of whe american and slavery Society and do not be can of appare the inen organizations of the inen organizations.

ECONOMICAL ARRANGEMENT FOR GOING TO AND RETURNING FROM NEW YORK.

In consequence of the extreme hardness of the times, and the great number of those who are anxious to attend the approaching anniversary of the American Anti-Slavery Society, several individuals have taken the responsibility of making the following arrangement, for the benefit of the friends of old organization.

An extra train of cars will leave Boston for Providence, at half past twelve o'clock, P. M., on Monday May 11, and stop at the intermediate places, as follows:

At Roxbury, - o'clock,

At Sharon, - o'clock,

At Attleboro', 2 o'clock,

" Jamaica Plais, — "

" Foxborough, 1-2 past 1, " Mansfield, 1-4 of 2,

" Dodgeville, — "
" Seekonk, — "

" Dedham, 5 m. before 1, " Canton, 10 m. after 1

Immediately after the arrival of the cars at Providence, (at 3 o'clock, P. M.,) the company will embark for New York in a steamboat rhartered for the purpose, (probably the "Massachusetts," one of the safest and best boats on the Sound.) touching at Newport for the accommodation of the friends in New Bedford, Nantucket, &c.

The boat has been chartered for 1000 dollars, to go and return—making 500 dollars each way. The fare will, of course, be in proportion to the number of passengers. If 250 should avail themselves of the offer, the fare from Providence would be only two dollars, or one half the ordinary expense. If the number can be increased to 500, [and we hope it will be] the fare will be only one dollar, or one fourth the usual expense.

The fare from Boston to Providence, for passengers, will be only one dollar; from the intermediate places in proportion. This is a reduction of one third from the usual fare.

Arrangements have also been made with Mr. Goss, at 63 Barclay street, New York, to furnish the friends of the old organization, male and female, with food and lodging for 50 cents per. day. A large hall will be fitted up for this purpose.

The meeting will doubtless continue 3 days. The boat will leave New York for Providence on the return voyage, as soon as the meeting closes, probably on Friday afternoon or Saturday morning.

It is almost needless to say, that our colored friends will be admitted to equal privileges with others, both in the cars and on board the boat. We hope to have many of them in our company.

It is expected that an anti-slavery meeting will be held on board the steam-boat, during the passage from Providence to New York. This meeting cannot fail to be one of very deep interest.

In view of these arrangements, we earnestly invite all the true friends of the anti-slavery cause, who can possibly leave their business and their homes for the requisite time, to go up to New York and aid in preserving the integrity of the anti-slavery enterprise, and in defeating the schemes of clerical plotters and disorganizers.

and therey platform point me to call your attention to the coming answering of the National Society, to be holden in the city of New york, on the 12 th of May . " you are doubtless aware, that the meeting will be of deep 4. thinking interest, from the topies that when them I there be discuped. If the abolitionists, the time he wited and impettered abolitionisty - the to-bure and free spirits of the land, - Stay at home, the American anti there society paper into the hands of bear organization to come of species and those who are determined to saidle our came with the correspond ordine of a third party; and lestonering will much But all this can be avoided, if the find will rally. I have the times are had. I know det you may Tol profeed by them, but the slave is properly harder than you can propibly be white you may lack money to procume busings he lacks likely to procun the blamest fane; while you may feel the hardness of the times, he feels the sensity of a daily whiping of staration and readedness; and I do besend you by the tear you have shed, and the movey you have given to rally at the time and place affinited, and save our Cance from our dep designing toliticions Tanking men. come, then in Gold name, and may books bloging be with you. Time have a pro-slaving ministry and their conditions endeavoured to west our cause to it distruction. Thice have they been disappointed. They call upon you to see to it, that your agency is not wanting to bring their countels to naight, and turn their comsee into foolish of. lome, then, and you will find a nich remark in seeing our cause sauch and progreping at a rapid rate -. You will be bleased to recollect, that we lator in this came at a great disadvantage. Trigudice X Sectionarism are already armed + equipped . In nigitant "their organizationists," they start up at the slighest call, to Scatter misrepresentation of falsehood broad Cast over our land. with as many tongues as Comme dame, they but echo the language of their leaders, and they find, - domy am I to day it, - too many listeness who are willing to make their lave for the bleeding bound man

On whom can the American anti-Slavey locky defend, unless whom its devoted belt sacrificing free?

Permit my to Day, in all kindness to you, that you are under obligation to let no mader, some the stement necepity. Rech you for answers to your name at New york: are aiding by your langues your Counted, I wete in obtaining a glorious triumph for Freedom and Humanity.

The Root-Principle of the Peace Question.

[This tract is made up of an article published in the London Hereid of Peace for Twelfth 200., 1873, and reprinted in the Messeager of Peace for Third 200., 1874.]

The questions of Peace and International Arbitration have recently been discussed in a variety of ways and places: In home and foreign legislatures, in conferences of eminent juriets, in the columns of the leading journals on both sides of the Atlantic, and by assemblies specially composed of the clergy and ministers of the Gospel, as, for example, at Manchester, where, among other speakers, the Protestant and Roman Catholic bishops of the diocese delivered two excellent addresses in favor of adopting arbitration as a substitute for the barbarism of the sword. Great progress is evidently being made in this direction. It is, therefore, the more important that this progress should, as far as possible, he secured upon a basis which will be eafe against reaction, and upon a rock-firm foundation which will retain the superstructure when the next weighty tide of warlike passion and panic may set in from any quarter. For such a contingency is by no means impossible. The relations of France to Germany, in particular, although tolerably me from an immediate rupture, are fraught with the utmost peril as to the not very remote future. There is an almost universal resolve throughout France—"We must and will have Alance and Lorraine back again?" Millions of Frenchmen are quietly determined that this shall be the case, and they are not the less determined because the resolution is, in many cases, chereshed in effects. When the conflict recommences, it will be a more artful one than even the last.

These and other contingencies should be most seriously considered by the triends of Pener, with reference to the best presented means of diminishing the probability of their occurrence. The Arbitection Movement, eminently valuable as it is, can not with safety be exclusively relied upon as a sufficient counteractive to the force of popular passion in times of excitoment. Neither the general contactions, as to the pocumiary bardons of war and its ordinary cvils, fully arell, at such periods, to prevent a concurrence with popular domains for a recent to the swort.

The experience of the past has shown that the strongest cost of practical peace, during the actual raging of the storm of way, consists in a fastisful regurd to Christ's absolute supremary, and to his claims to receive bottoge through the persons of all his human children. The really religious peace man feels that the slaughter, even of his enemies, is the shoughter of those for whom Christ has died-those whom he has created—those whom he still white, it may be, by means of his Spirit. 'He shrinks in horror from the idea of wounding and grieving Christ's Spirit in otherswhether friends or enemies. If the bayonets pierce the advancing for, they may be said, with more measure of truth even to pierce Christ. If the cassess mow down into mangled masses the ranks of professing Christians, many of whom, perhaps, are, in some tolerable degree, striving to be honest Christians, those cannons notwally fire upon Christ. This is a horrible asyndoration, but it is by the power of Christ, the Divine voice said to him, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me" For, insumuch as he had imprisoned and cruelly treated the Christians, he had done it unto their Lord ("Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the loss of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me"). Hence the horror of Saul's convictions of sin, and his utter prostration of soul for the time.

It is on this ground that the most powerful and effectual testimony has ever been borne by the true lovers of pence, as by the Friends in Ireland during the rebellion, and by the members of the same denomination during the late American civil war; also, by some of the early Methodists and by some of the Mennonites and other Baptists. In this sense, the words recorded respecting Christ-"He is our peace"-have a special significance. And this principle is the deepest and strongest root of steadfastness in upholding practical peace. It could have been wished that in some recent conferences of Christian ministers, in reference to this question, this root-principle had been more clearly and more prominently dwelt upon. For it is of inestimaof paster, in the paste sweeps aside all other motives and considerations. Many will well remember the time of the first Great Exhibition of 1851, in London, when various popular spaces and writers came out prominently in behalf of peace. There were not wanting shrewd observers who then remorked: "Many of these men are basing their ttachment to peace ca a mere foundation of sand. Wait still any real time of trial comes, and they will fly away from their predemions like smallows at the first sign of win-ter." And so it proved; for whee, a few years later, the Crimens the rand the American civil war broke out, these very persons, including many reverend gentlemen among them, joined the loudest clamorers for an appeal to the sword.

4. The Date Printing of States Question.

A based of the country of the countr

Nothing bet the conviction that the claims of Christ, and of universal humanity as his own children, are parameter to be merower relations of common patriction. If the Franchican and the German can be brought to bentif in each other a true brotherhood is. Christ—a real, and not imaginary unity in him; a common share in his protection; a common responsibility to him, as the divine farg, possessing a bentite power hereafter, when comperers and monarchs shall have moldered into dust; a common possession of his Spirit now and forever—then, and then only, will even the neighty influence of patrictic passion only, will even the neighty influence of patrictic passion.

only, will even the neighty influence of patriotic passion to occuminate of by a still grander power.

This power is the root-principle, the rook-foundation, of genuine med abeling posses. And now is the interval we know not how long it may continue) between the last conflict and the next—pow is the time for the friends of Posse to procision, and by every possible formans to propagate, this perinciple. And superially is it incumbent upon them to device the most effection means for its diffusion on the Continuent of Energe, where the denger of the well great conflict is more threatening than elsewhere.
